Dr. L. W. French, dentist of Louisville, is in the city and will remain until Sept. 2nd. He can be found at Dr. S. S. Watkins' office.

A census recently taken by R. N. Miller shows that there are 358 voters in the city of Cloverport. The Democratic majority is about fifty.

Misses Ann Lena and Sarah Hamman, Evelyn Hicks and Rose Riedel attended a picnic in Indiana, opposite Ad-dison, last Friday.

Talking about picnics, the one at Sample will be the best of the season. Make your arrangements to attend. Mattingly & Co., are the managers.

Miss Lizzie Burnett accompanied by her niece, Mr. Wright, arrived yesterday from St. Louis. She is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. H. Walters.

Rev. J. T. Coker and wife, of Richmond, Va., at Miss Maude Smith, of Silver City, Ky. Mexico, are guests at Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Hays.

W. W. Seftian and daughters, Mary and Lucy, M. A. R. Fisher and Miss Georgia Whit Friday evening for a two-weeks visit at the World's Fair.

It does you good. It's better than any tonic you can take to drop in and see our tempting display of eatables. They will give you an appetite—Sulzer's.

John R. Jace is a candidate for re-election to a position of poor-house keeper. The election will be made at the October 1st of the county court.

Mr. C. F. Attingly and family visited relatives at Lag Lick last week. While there Mr. Attingly met with a painful accident by giving an ankle sprained in a runaway.

At the Turkish and French villages at the World's Fair the restaurants all use Chase & Sanborn's coffee. We handle this celebrated coffee—Try a pound—Sulzer's.

The Hardin boys came down yesterday and nipped up the earth with our Sulzer's Cyclones to the tune of 26 to 7. The Cyclones stirred up too big a breeze by fanning the wind.

S. L. Sulzer, Sr., Chas. Beecher and wife and Miss Walter Beecher, of Louisville, and Mr. S. L. Sulzer, of Cannelton, spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nolte last Thursday.

It is amusing to see the number of people who ever day start into Dave Murray's law office for the postoffice. When they see the mistake the expressions of their faces positively ludicrous.

Eugene Merrill, of Leapold, Ind., was in the city last Monday. His many friends here will be pleased to know that his prospect for the Collector's place in the Evansville district are flattering.

Mr. John Janks, of Stephensport, was the guest of this grand daughter, Mrs. John Weisberger, a couple of days last week. Mr. Janks is 90 years of age and is a sprightly man yet. He don't appear to be over sixty.

Orke & McNeil's Voyager was at the wharf last Saturday night. Their entertainment was positively one of the best that ever visited this city. The performers were all good, and the acting was far above the average.

The Catesnitting yarn, manufactured by the Owensboro Woolen Mills, is made from merino and half and quarter blood merino wool which for softness, strength and durability is unequalled. For sale by all merchants in this vicinity.

Sulzer's Cyclones beat the Union Star's last Wednesday evening in an interesting game of ball, by a score of 29 to 28. There was hardly an inning that the clubs did not pass and re-pass each other and this held the interest of the spectators more than the good plays that were made.

Capt. Nat. Hill was over last week from his home in Illinois. He says he comes over once a year to let his old friends know that he is still making a living and expects to remain another year. Said he: "Tell my friends that I have just sold $400 worth of hogs, have plenty of wheat to run me and that I am in no danger of starving, at least for another year."

Farmer and Newspaper Men.
Many men think that newspaper men are persistent dinners. By the way of comparison let us suppose that a farmer has 1,000 bushels of wheat a year and sells this to 1,000 persons in all parts of the country a great portion of them say: "I will buy this in a short time."

The farmer does not want to be small and says all right. Soon the 1,000 bushels are gone but he has nothing to show for it, and he then realizes that he has foiled away his whole crop and its value is due to him in a thousand little dribbles, consequently he is seriously embarrassed in business because of his debtors, each owing him one dollar, treat it as a small matter and think it would not help much. Continue this kind of business year in and year out as the publisher does, how long would he stand it? A moments thought will convince any one that a publisher has cause for persistent dunning.—National Labor Tribune.

HITE'S RUN.
Hurrah for Gross.
Crops are looking well regardless of the dry weather.

Farmers are done threshing wheat and a good yield is reported.
Mrs. Beav, of Lodi, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Miller.

Mrs. W. V. Blain, of Falls of Rough, visited relatives at this place last week.
Messrs. Avery and Hillery Hardin are visiting their cousin, Miss Bettie Kinney at Troy, Ind.

A little son of Mr. John Trent is quite sick at this writing.

ALL GONE.

George Madden Moves the Last Piece of Rubbish off the Track.

The following explanatory letter mails the last vestige of the many misrepresentations about Jack Gross to the earth.
Louisville, Ky., August 23 1893.
Editor of the Clarion.

Hawesville, Ky.
Dear Sir:—The Plaindealer of Aug. 3 1893 says:

"It is a matter of recent history that Jack Gross at the head of the eastern contingent in the state convention, beat George Madden of Hancock county with Mat Adams an eastern man, Gross may claim that his county instructed him for Adams, and so it did, but Jack Gross was in the county convention and had himself instructed. Was this Western Kentucky patriotism?"

In reply to the above, I wish to say to every friend of mine in Hancock county that Capt. Gross was my friend in the race for clerk from first to last. Through the strong influence of him and his friends I carried Breckenridge county, but upon the other hand, Meade county, the county of my birth, failed to instruct for me.

Capt. Gross was one of the best workers I had and for three days and nights in the convention at Louisville, he was in the front rank doing everything he could for me and there is no man in the state that I feel more interest in.

Respectfully,
Geo. H. Madden.

IT PASSED.

The Wilson Bill, Which Repeals the Sherman Silver Bill Goes Through the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Wilson bill passed the House by a vote of 240 to 110. The first vote was taken at 12:12 o'clock. Bland's 16 to 1 free coinage proposition was defeated by a vote of 225 to 123. The 17 to 1 amendment met the same fate by a vote of 240 to 100. Free coinage at the ratio of 18 to 1 received 102 votes to 239 against. There were 105 yeas to 237 nays on the 19 to 1 proposition. On the 20 to 1 amendment the vote was 119 yeas and 222 nays. The majority against the re-enactment of the Bland-Allison act was not quite so large, the yeas being 130 in number, and the nays 213.

True inwardness of the Louisville Post's Warfare on Gross.

Adjutant Gross may "get there" and then again he may not. At any rate it is something to have frightened the Adjutant General of the State—Louisville Post.

This is the Post's way of hedging now that it sees Gross is sure to win next Saturday. The Post's warfare on Gross has not been manly, or in any sense commendable. It is really believed him a bad man, or his opponent a better man for the office, its attacks might have been excusable. But the editor of the Post knows Jack Gross to be a manly, courageous, intelligent man, who has made a success of everything he has undertaken and who has done credit to the public service, while he also knows his opponent to be a lame stick, a failure and a disappointment to his friends, who quit the Legislature with an unenviable name and was reprimanded by the people of his own county. The Post has opposed Gross solely on account of a narrow prejudice.—Owensboro Messenger.

Rules of the Primary.
At a meeting of the Democratic Committee of the Tenth Senatorial district, held at the law office of W. K. Barnes, in the town of Hardinsburg, August 9th, 1893, present, all the members except Judge Woolfolk of Meade, who was present by proxy.

The following Resolutions were offered and adopted:

Resolved: 1. That all legal voters who are known democrats, or persons that have affiliated with the democratic party in the past, or who in good faith propose to do so in the future and will agree to support the nominee of the primary, will be permitted to vote in this primary.

2. That the Chairman of this committee be authorized to procure, ballots for the district primary and distribute those belonging to each county to the chairman thereof, who will distribute the same to the various clerks at the voting places of his county.

3. That the Chairman of their respective counties be and they are hereby authorized to appoint, from the list of proposed officers submitted by the candidates as provided by law, all the officers of said primary in his county necessary to legally conduct the same.

4. That the sheriff of each voting place throughout the district be authorized to deliver to the chairman of his county the poll book of each voting place where he may be sheriff, on Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1893, and that this committee meet at the law office of W. K. Barnes in the town of Hardinsburg, on Monday, the 11th of Sept., 1893 to compare the poll and declare the nominee of the primary as prescribed by law.

W. K. BARNES, Chairman.
CLARENCE STREET, Secretary.

The Injunction Suit.
In the case of Emmet Mattingly vs. Thos. Addison, County Judge, &c., an injunction was procured restraining the Judge and Clerk from recording the certificate of the local option election in the Hardinsburg Magisterial District, it being contended by the plaintiff that the law was unconstitutional. On motion of the defendants Judge McBride dissolved the injunction, holding the law constitutional. Mr. D. R. Murray, plaintiff's attorney, on last Monday applied to Judge C. Bennett, Chief Justice of Kentucky, who reinstated the injunction, and we suppose that Judge Bennett's "say" has to prevail, he being the superior officer.

Miss Hattie Moseley is Dead.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8, 1893.—Died, in Louisville, Ky., on Monday, Aug. 14 1893, Miss Hattie W. Moseley. Miss Hattie was a niece of the late Dr. N. C. Moseley, Hardinsburg.

Attest: J. F. WOOLFOLK,
Chairman Meade County Democratic Committee.

Ben Johnson's Bluff.

Collector Johnson will not sue Adjutant General A. J. Gross for libel. He arrived at this decision on the return of his attorney, Mr. Fairleigh, from Hardinsburg yesterday. Said Mr. Johnson: "Mr. Fairleigh tells me that his investigations resulted in finding that Gen. Gross did not say what he was quoted as having said. The words that he used in his speech were to the effect that Mr. Richardson said Minor's check was not paid because my check had not arrived. In fact, my check did not arrive there until 11 o'clock on the morning of the publication in the Courier-Journal of Mr. Gross' alleged words. As Gen. Gross said nothing actionable, why, the suit will not be brought. Mr. Johnson did not say what he would do with the Courier-Journal, but may drop the matter with it, too.—Louisville Commercial.

Cards of Thanks.

CLOVERPORT, Ky., August 28th, 1893.—I desire to thank our many friends for their kindness and attention to my husband during his late illness, and especially Drs. Simons and Watkins, who gave so much time and assistance in trying to alleviate his great suffering. In my great bereavement and sorrow the church and friends have done all, yes more, than I could reasonably ask. That the God of the widow and orphan may richly reward each and every one is my prayer.

ANNA A. MORRISON.

CLOVERPORT, Ky., August 28th, 1893.—MR. EDITOR.—Sir: I wish to express through the columns of your paper my sincere thanks to the citizens of Cloverport for the kindness shown my son-in-law, Rev. E. H. Morrison, and family during his last illness, and also for the courtesy accorded me by those with whom I had any social or business intercourse during my brief stay in your little city, and I assure you I shall carry with me to my home in Indiana a profound respect for your town and its kind-hearted and courteous citizens.

J. J. HAARE.

Clean The City.

We think we reflect public sentiment generally, when we say to the City Council that it is their pressing duty to take action and thorough measures to have the garbage and filth cleaned up.

There can be no health with matters in the condition they are in at present. Odors from privy vaults and other foul sources, poison the air we daily breathe in every part of the city. One citizen neglects, because all his neighbors neglect thus it goes. Melon rinds are promiscuously thrown upon streets and premises, and added to the general bad conditions. The hog is absent. He was a good scavenger wherever he could get in his work.

PELLVILLE.

Your paper is a welcome visitor here. Gross will get there all the same. This precinct is loud for him.

Richardson has a few votes here, Minor none.

Our farmers are in good condition now on account of good rains and fine crops. Frank Leibovitz, a Jew, has opened a wholesale and retail store here. He will carry a large stock of dry goods and groceries, and will be quite a help to our town and county.

Not much sickness here.
Lone Temple went to Cloverport last week.

Joe And, bookkeeper of F. T. Gunther was here last Friday.

We will say no more till the election is over.

Here is five to one Gross beats the field 900 majority.

ROCKY RUN.

Mr. Will Adkisson, of New Bethel, was the guest of Miss Lucy Squires, Sunday night.

Mr. Silas Pate, of New Bethel, was the guest of Miss Ophelia Miller Saturday night.

Miss Adelia Atwood was the guest of Miss Maggie Squires Friday night.

Miss Lula DeJernette, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gid. Miller, near Jolly Station, returned home yesterday.

Mr. John Miller and wife, Mr. John Squires and wife and Mr. Milton Squires and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. Huston last Sunday.

Mrs. G. W. Short was reported to be quite sick yesterday evening.

DEMOCRATIC DANCE.

THE SECOND OF SEPTEMBER IS THE DAY SET.

Music Composed by Jack Gross and Sung by Tenth-Senatorial Democrats.

NO OTHERS NEED APPLY.

IRVINGTON, Ky., August 28th, 1893.—EDITOR BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.—Dear Sir: On Saturday, September 2nd, 1893, the Democrats of the Tenth Senatorial District will give a political dance at the different voting precincts in Meade, Breckenridge and Hancock counties. An invitation is extended to those who will dance and can keep time to a Democratic quick step and swing corners in an old-fashioned Democratic reel. No one will be admitted to the ball rooms except those wearing a Democratic badge, consequently we may expect a grand time. The music will be furnished by an assorted band and they will have nothing to do but play. The dancers will have on their pumps, well waxed.

It has been rumored that there will be a delegation of mongrel jig dancers, not Democrats, who will attempt to shake their feet on said floor. This is to notify said gentlemen that their tickets are not read thusly, therefore they will dance on the outside.

The music will be at concert pitch, on high scale, played in a key of all sharps, composed by the writer and is as follows:

Some people drink brandy and whisky. Some drink beer through a spile. But the drink that makes us feel frisky is the juice of the sweet pennyroy.

The music to this stanza has been set by our friend and fellow citizen, Gen. A. J. Gross, who is doing business at the old stand.

Yours truly,
A. DANCER.

Get ready for the big picnic at Sample Saturday Sept. 9th.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Electropole will cure many cases of disease where nothing else will. It has worked like a charm in my family.

Rev. Geo. H. Means, Covington, Ky.
It is certainly a wonderful instrument, and it is more wonderful as to how it does its work, yet it does it.

T. E. C. Brinley.
[The veteran pulp manufacturer of the South.]
Louisville, Ky.

With the Electropole I have cured dyspepsia, constipation and liver trouble, la grippe, headache, toothache, bad colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, neuritis, colic and piles. The results are wonderful, chills and fever I have seen cured in sixty minutes.

E. B. Lyle, Churchill, Ky.
To the Democrats of Breckenridge County.
Owing to the mistaken impression that I would not receive my certificate of qualification until on the eve of the election, which would have given me no time to canvass, I withdrew from the race for a time. I was not eligible, and hence was unwilling to ask the people to vote for me. I now have my certificate and in seemingly good health to make the race, and I am now in the fight to stay.
